Report

Industrial Visit – Vanitec Ltd, (04.10.2023)

Industrial Visit Report

Date of Visit: 04th October 2023

Venue: VANITEC LTD (Zero Liquid Discharge Common Effluent Treatment Plant – ZLDCETP), Valayampet, Vaniyambadi

Attendees: 65 students from I & III B.Sc Chemistry, accompanied by 3 faculty members.

Introduction

On 4th October 2023, 65 students of I & III B.Sc Chemistry, along with three faculty members, embarked on an industrial visit to VANITEC LTD, located at Valayampet, Vaniyambadi. The visit provided the students with an opportunity to learn firsthand about the working of a Zero Liquid Discharge Common Effluent Treatment Plant (ZLDCETP).

Objectives of the Visit

The primary objectives of the visit were:

1. To understand the different stages involved in the treatment of industrial effluent.
2. To gain insight into the technological advancements used in waste water management and the concept of Zero Liquid Discharge (ZLD).

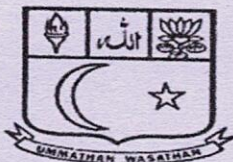

ZLDCETP employs advanced treatment technologies such as:

- Primary Treatment: Removal of large particles and suspended solids through physical processes such as sedimentation.
- Secondary Treatment: Biological treatment using microorganisms to degrade organic contaminants.
- Tertiary Treatment: Advanced chemical processes for polishing the treated water, ensuring it meets the required quality standards.
- Evaporation and Crystallization: To ensure Zero Liquid Discharge, the plant uses advanced evaporation techniques to recover clean water from the effluent, leaving behind concentrated salts that can be disposed of safely.

The plant operates in a way that aligns with environmental regulations, reducing the overall environmental footprint of industries and contributing to sustainable industrial practices.

Detailed Insights from the Visit :

The visit was guided by a team of experienced staff who provided in-depth explanations of the various sections of the treatment plant. The students were shown different units and stages of wastewater treatment, each providing valuable insights into the industrial-scale application of chemistry principles.

1. Wastewater Collection and Preliminary Screening

The first stage of the wastewater treatment process involves the collection of industrial effluent from different industries. The water is then passed through a series of preliminary screens to remove large particles such as plastics, metals, and other debris.

2. Primary Treatment (Physical Separation)

The effluent is subjected to primary treatment processes, such as sedimentation and flotation, to remove larger suspended solids and particulate matter. This stage is crucial for reducing the load on subsequent treatment processes.

3. Biological Treatment (Secondary Treatment)

In the secondary treatment stage, microorganisms are used to break down organic contaminants in the wastewater. Aeration tanks are employed where the microorganisms are provided with oxygen to help degrade organic compounds effectively. This process is vital in reducing the biochemical oxygen demand (BOD) of the effluent.

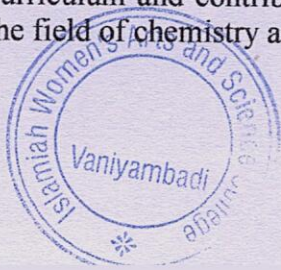

4. Chemical Treatment (Tertiary Treatment)

The tertiary treatment involves the use of chemical coagulants and flocculants to remove finer suspended solids and dissolved contaminants. This stage ensures that the treated water meets the stringent discharge standards set by environmental regulatory bodies.

5. Zero Liquid Discharge Process

To achieve Zero Liquid Discharge, the treated water undergoes evaporation and crystallization. This ensures that no liquid effluent is discharged into the environment. The remaining concentrate is safely disposed of, and the recovered water is reused for various industrial processes or returned to the plant for further use.

Zero Liquid Discharge Common Effluent Treatment Plant was a highly informative and educational experience for the students. It helped bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and its real-world applications, particularly in the field of environmental chemistry and waste management. The visit was truly a valuable part of the academic curriculum and contributed significantly to the students' knowledge and career prospects in the field of chemistry and environmental sciences.
